CHICAGO PRODUCE MARKET.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE. |- The government crop report, so far as it related to corn, was issued to-day, Its contents were known in select circles sesterday afternoon and late in the day pretty nearly everybody had an inkling of what it would be. The official confirmation of street rumors, based on advance tire, had a weakening effect on wheat as well as corn, though nothing was said about the former cereal and the grain market sold off sharply. By one of those queer freaks often seen in the speculative smarkets, the effect of the estimates was felt with greater force in wheat, about which nothing was said, than in corn. This result was due to two causes, The corn estimate was generally discredited and the wheat market was naturally heavy and tired. Wheat in the northwest pours forward in undiminished volume, and the load piles up with back-breaking rapidity. The main holders have grown weary waiting for the expected advance, and at every indication of weakness they let go some property. To-day considerable wheat come out on stop orders at 7414c for December and 8135 for May, and at 1 o clock the market looked sick. Foreign news was all favorable to higher prices. Public and private cables chronicled better foreign markets for wheat and flour, and scaboard advices, while not parand flour, and scaboard advices, while not par-ticularly bullish, could not be called bearish. Nevertheless the local spirit was strongly that way and some of the heavy weights were open sellers, after having kept out of the market for two or three weeks. Scalpers, however, were the principal short sellers, December opened at 75c and May 82c. At 1 o'clock December was 74%c and May 81%.@ 81%c, a decline of %20%;c on the day. The heaviest trading was during the last hour and the market rested at the lowest frames of and the market rested at the lowest figures of the morning. That corn would sell off some in case the government report to-day showed in case the government report to-day showed an increase in the probable yield was a foregone conclusion. When the figures came out placing the increase at 18,000,000 bushels and making the crop 1,668,000,000 bushels, prices, according to the previously arranged programme of the bear crowd, were hammered down to a point nearly 160 below yesterday's latest bids. December receded to 364c, January to 365c, and May to 41360(415c on the split. That appeared to be as low as the bears could force values, and that was where the market closed at 1 as low as the bears could force values, and that was where the market closed at 1 o'clock. Oats were quiet, and speculative trading again of remarkably small volume. About the only business passing was in May property, which sold off from 30% (26.30% c on the split at the opening to 30%, and closed at 1 o'clock at inside figures, or % clower than yesterday. Provisions were lan uid and slightly lower for pork and ribs, and a shade higher for lard. Quotations were merely nominal, however, in many of the months, no business being done of consequence. The steek yards strike is still concentrating the attention of the packers and speculators, and the determination to keep out of the new deals till the troubles are over is un-deals till the troubles are over is un-2:30 p. m.-Wheat was fairly steady on the afternoon board, closing at 74% @744c for December. There was but little change in any of the other markets, the last quotations standing 41½c for May corn, and 89.95 for January pork.

SELFISHNESS.

FLOORING.

Various Forms of It as Displayed in Various People.

Texas Siftings: Greed is not entirely contined to animals of the poreme breed. There are various breeds of human hogs. which, in point of selfishness, are far ahead of those unfortunate creatures that are mentioned in the New Testament as having run violently down a steep place into the sea and perished in the billows. Greed, or avarice, strictly speaking, is not a penal offense. Byron remarks cyn-ically: "For a good old gentiemanly vice ically: "For a good old gentlemanly vice I think I il take up with avarice." And yet there is very little fun in hoarding up money. It is almost impossible to take any of it with us when we die and go to Heaven. "Shrouds," to use the impressive words of some preacher, whose name we have forgotten—"Shrouds have no pockets." This is a fact, we presume, although we have never critically exammed many shouds to see if they had pock-ets or not. It would hardly be in good form for a person who is invited to a funeral to monkey around the remains searching for a pocket in the shroud merely to gratify idle curiosity. Such a person would not be invited a second time to a funeral. Now that we come to think we fail to perceive why a shroud shoeld have a pocket.

But we have drifted away from our text, which was avaried or greed. There is such a thing as mistaken avar ice, where a man, in an effort to save a dime, loses a dollar. An illustration of this is to be found in the case of the negro during slave times, who, having bought a hat, put it under his coat to prevent it being rained on. When asked why he did not keep his hat on his head, he replied: "De hat's mine, bought it wid my own money. Head belongs to massa; let This logic was very good, so far as it went, but when the selfish negro caught cold in his head from exposure and died of neuralgia in great agony, he regretted his narrow-minded selfish policy. The man who occupies several seats in crowded railroad-car comes under the head of dressed pork.

Another form of selfishness from Vermont: A couple put off applying for a divorce one term of court so they could profit by their tin wedding.

Boys are supposed to be selfish, but occasionally a boy shows symptoms of liberality. A Texas boy, after eating three whole watermelons, pointed triumphantly to the seads as proof that he didn't eat whole ones. He had left the
